THE REMOVAL of a formal lounge signalled an opportunity for the duo behind interior design firm Golden, Kylie Dorotic and Alicia McKimm, to create a deeply luxurious open-plan living, dining and kitchen zone. “With a brief defined by texture, not colour, the kitchen is indisputably anchored by a sculptural, monolithic island bench carved from Astrus granite from G-Lux. This grand form is countered by the wood grain of custom joinery, complementary in black stain, and the addition of custom hardware in stone and metal. With a need to accommodate large family celebrations – be it a midweek dinner or a more revered occasion – the sun-drenched, open-plan dining area quickly became the hero space and is grounded by an expansive custom-length ‘Atticus’ dining table by Lowe Furniture that comfortably seats up to 14 guests.” What luxury items did you choose for this kitchen regardless of budget? “The Astrus granite from G-Lux and Dekton surface in Sirius from Cosentino.” designbygolden.com.au
